

Boy Scout Troop 162 Visits the Henry County Sheriff's Office

Boy Scouts from Henry County Troop 162, their leaders and family members visited the Henry County Sheriff's Office on August 25. They came to learn about the constitutional duties of the Sheriff and the various other responsibilities that are performed at the Sheriff's Office from Sheriff Keith McBrayer.

Scouts watched a slide show packed with interesting information and narrated by Sheriff McBrayer. The Sheriff answered questions covering a wide range of related topics. Several of the questions were asked by Scouts to help them earn merit badges.

Following the presentation and discussion with Sheriff McBrayer, the group was split into two teams and given tours of the jail facilities. This included the behind the scenes operation and a visit to portion of a cell block currently under refurbishment.

"Although we provide tours to many groups, I enjoy speaking directly with our youth." said Sheriff McBrayer. "It is very important they understand that not everyone in our detention centers are hardened criminals, but that by making one bad decision their lives and the lives of their family members can be dramatically altered."
